ALAN WOLTON

NEW ARTIST TO LAHAINA GALLERIES

We are pleased to present the work of artist Alan Wolton. Painting is second nature for Alan who has enjoyed a long and successful career over the past six decades.

"I have never specifically attempted to follow a trend, the style of my work has come naturally. I choose to be a free spirit and paint with emotion. I like my paintings to stop passers-by who had only by accident caught a glimpse of the picture. What they see should be breathtakingly different, delightfully fresh, something emotionally appetizing and a joy. A little stimulation in a mundane world. A subconscious visual high spiked by a happy relationship of colors, tones, forms and cleanliness."

Robert Lyn Nelson paints not merely with color, but with poetic mystique - leading us into the realm of imagination. Robert has an ability to see objects and surroundings in unique ways, which he then translates for the rest of us to fully experience and enjoy visually. Robert is a true artist who has no boundaries.

CRAIG ALAN

NEW MURAL IN ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Craig Alan's allegorical From the Ground Up will be Atlanta's newest public art piece. Mirroring Atlanta from the Ashes, it is a depiction of the city's rise from the ashes of the Civil War to become a world city. From the Ground Up embodies Atlanta's rebuilding amidst the nation's current civil unrest and its fight to unite against the coronavirus pandemic.

Among the notable local figures featured in the work are Atlanta Mayor Keisha Lance Bottoms, media mogul Ted Turner, Margaret Mitchell, author of Gone With the Wind and a range of essential workers including Instacart shoppers, a UPS delivery driver, a janitor, a farmer, nurses and doctors.

“Throughout history, Atlanta has endured triumphs and tribulations to create and foster a culture of appreciation and individualism,” said Craig Alan. “My hope for this piece is that it ignites a conversation to demand change in order to unify us as one human entity.”

Napali Coast at Ke'e Cove | Oil | 18 x 24 in.

Napali Coast at Ke'e Cove

When the artist and his wife first discovered the Napali coast, they were surprised to discover this grand view of lava rock cliffs at the head of a rugged and colorful coastline, stretching endlessly into the distance.

The constantly shifting clouds cast shadows on the cliffs that contrast with the turquoise cove and sandy beach in the foreground.

Le Grand Almond Cove

These blossoming almond trees are a legacy of this special location in Le Grand, California. The artist and his family drive through this area every time they visit Mariposa in the Central Valley. The magnificent blossoming almond groves of Le Grand line this country road.

Le Grand Almond Cove | Oil | 40 x 60 in.

Notice the water in the grassy foreground: it is from the recent irrigation of the crop, reflecting the magnificent blue sky.
